Police Link OSR Escape to Gun, Clothing Theft

Two Auto Thieves Walk Out

Steam Corners Area Searched

The search for two men who escaped the Ohio State reformatory late yesterday was concentrated in the Steam Corners area of Morrow county today after authorities there reported the theft of a revolver and clothing from a farmhouse.

Acting Superintendent George Allarding of the OSR identified the escapers as Jack Hartford, 19, and Gerald Green, 24, both of Franklin county.

Morrow county Sheriff Thomas England said the Robert Wedler home, one-half mile north of Steam Corners, was entered shortly before 11 p. m. while the family was absent.

A window had been pried open by burglars who took a .22 calibre revolver, three pairs of trousers, one shirt, three neckties, two or three sport jackets, a pocket watch, a check book on the Lexington bank, and approximately $18 in cash.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

Shortly before 11 p. m., Sheriff England said, a car resembling one stolen in Mansfield last night from Herman Norris, 386 Laird avenue, nearly collided with his patrol car while he was on the way to investigate the burglary. The car was later found by its owner on a different Mansfield street, a block from where it had been stolen.

However, the possibility that the escapers might have doubled back on their tracks and returned to Mansfield was discounted by local police.

State Highway patrol road blocks failed to turn up the two fugitives this morning.

Sheriff England said his deputies were to search the Steam Corners area today for reformatory clothing.

According to Allarding, Hartford, who fled from the institution orchard at 1 p. m., and Green, who walked away from the poultry farm at 4 p. m., were both sentenced for car theft.

Hartford was received at OSR on Oct. 1, 1948, and Green on Oct. 20, 1947. Both were serving from one to 20 years.

Rail Union Picks Chief

CLEVELAND — (AP) — A Canadian-born railroader, who once worked as a news butcher, will head the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen until its 1950 convention.

William P. Kennedy, '57, was selected last night by the independent union's directors to fill the vacancy created by the death Saturday of A. F. Whitney.

The new leader of the 215,000 member union moved here two years ago after he was named general secretary and treasurer. He has been active in brotherhood affairs for 35 years.

To fill Kennedy's place, the brotherhood selected Donald A. MacKinsie, 67, of Cleveland. MacKenzie has been assistant president and is a former resident of New Mexico and Los Angeles.

W. L. Reed, a vice president of East Mauch Chunk, Pa., succeeds MacKenzie. C. J. McClain, brotherhood general chairman for the Louisville and Nashville railroad, was moved up to take Reed's job.

Although Kennedy's term will expire at the convention in September, 1950, brotherhood sources predicted the union would continue him in office.

Tax Deadline Falls Today

County Treasurer Charles C. Payne said the second - half real estate tax collection was "shaping up pretty good," with a total of $882,138 taken in. Today is the last day for payment.

That includes yesterday's collection of $39,544, but not payments contained in some 550 letters still to be processed. The charge is $1,154,933.

Although this is the last day for paying, Payne said letters with today's postmark would be accepted, without penalty.

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—A hearing on a charge of attempting to kill his 19-year-old sweetheart will be held in morals court today for Felix L. Speecacenere, 20, Warren, O.

Police said they arrested the youth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Roth. Roth overpowered the Ohioan and and wrested a gun from his hands, police said.

Lt. Sylvester Stoehr said Speecacenere became enraged at finding another man's picture in the frame once reserved for his own.

900 To Be Affected By 52-20 End

U. S. Payments Stop Monday

Approximately 900 Mansfield area veterans now drawing unemployment benefits under provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment act, will find their incomes from that source stopped, when the period for drawing weekly payments of $20 for 52 weeks, ends Monday at Midnight.

There is very little possibility that Congress will extend the period for drawing the compensation. Rep. John Rankin, of Miss., perennial backer of veteran's legislation, recently declined to ask for an extension.

The law provides that veterans can draw the 52 - 20 benefits for a period of two years after the official end of the war, or two years after their discharge, whichever is later. Thus veterans discharged after July 25, 1947 official date of the war's end will be able to draw unemployment compensation after Monday, C. W. Handley, manager of the Mansfield Bureau, of Unemployment Eompensation, said today.

Handley said, however, that only a few of the estimated 900 veterans now drawing unemployment compensation here were discharged after July 25, 1947.

Veterans who have been receiving compensation under the Servicemen's Re - adjustment Act, may file claims for benefits under the Ohio Unemployment Act of 1938, after Monday, if they qualify under provisions of the Ohio law Handley added.

"There is a slight dropping off in the number of jobless claims filed here, Handley said, but the total number of claims remains fairly constant." Handley estimated that 1800 persons were receiving unemployment compensation in Mansfield under the Ohio Law.

Sorry, Boys, No Air Rifle Shooting Here

A boy can't shoot an air rifle in the city — even if it is at his own apple tree.

That's what a South Franklin avenue youngster learned last night after police investigated a complaint that boys were shooting air rifles in the neighborhood.

The boy explained to officers he was shooting apples on the tree in his own backyard.

But police in turn explained that it's against the law to shoot an air rifle in the city. The gun was taken to the police station and the boy will have to talk to Capt. Paul Whipp about getting it back.

Oil, Salt Water Hit Medina Wells

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The Ohio Water Resources board sought today to find a way to keep oil and salt water out of wells used for drinking water in Medina county.

The board summoned a score of oil - well drillers and several utility company representatives to a hearing on the situation.

The situation is worst around Chatham. Floods washed oil and salt water from oil wells and storage pits into the water wells, a survey showed.

Truman Acts In 5% Case

Orders "All-Out" Probe Launched

WASHINGTON — (UP) — President Truman has ordered defense chiefs to make a thorough investigation of the activities of Washington's "five per centers" and let the chips fall where they may, White House scources said today.

These imformants said the President instructed Defense Secretary Louis Johnson and Army Secretary Gordon Gray to find out whether any military officials are linked with the "influence industry."

Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt, chief of the army chemical corps, and Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, quartermaster general, already have been suspended for alleged implication in the five per cent contract racket.

The name of Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, the President's military aide, has figured in the inquiry now being conducted by a Senate subcommittee. However, Senate investigators have refused to discuss a copyrighted story in the Washington Post linking Vaughan with a five per center and with one of the suspended army officers.

White House informants said the President told Johnson and Gray that it is up to the army to take any remedial steps that may be necessary, without waiting for Senate hearings which are scheduled to get under way in about two weeks.

$6,750 Home Seen Problem's Solution

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Federal Rent Director Tighe Woods has built a modest $6,750 home which he thinks may help solve the military's housing difficulties.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House armed services committee thinks so too. Vinson said today he is going to take Woods up on his invitation to look at the house, near the army's Fort Belvoir, Va., about 17 miles from Washington.

Ex-Tyger Moves Up

Doolittle Hired As Brown U. Coach

Billy Doolittle, former Mansfield Senior high school football star, today was named backfield coach at Brown university in Providence, R. I.

Doolittle, who will be 26 years old Aug. 10, will report to Brown on Aug. 28. In addition to his coaching duties, Doolittle will serve as chief football scout and will teach physical education.

A graduate of Ohio State in 1948, Doolittle coached football, basketball and track at Grandview high school near Columbus during the 1948-49 school year. This summer he is serving as recreation director at Grandview.

Although four years service in the Marines interrupted his college career, Doolittle won letters as an Ohio State quarterback in 1946 and '47. Injuries hampered the stocky field general in 1947 and he started only one game. He tossed the pass which gave Ohio State its only touchdown against Michigan in 1946.

Doolittle captained the 1941 Mansfield Tyger football team which was undefeated. He was named to the All-Ohio second team that year, his third as a regular at Senior high. At Ohio State, Doolittle was known as the best-looking back on the squad.

He spent last week in Providence getting acquainted with the other members of the Brown staff. Doolittle, his wife and daughter will move from their Columbus home to Providence about the middle of August.

Want Bomb Kept Secret

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Senate foes of the Atlantic pact indicated today they will ask specific assurances that atom bomb information will not be furnished to Great Britain under the treaty.

At the same time, Republican Sens. Robert A. Taft, O., Arthur V. Watkins, Utah, and Kenneth S. Wherry, Neb., joined in a last-minute effort to write into the treaty a stipulation that there is no moral or legal obligation on the part of the United States to furnish Europe with arms aid.

Watkins said he will move to postpone a final vote on ratification of the treaty for 24 hours if it appears that the present schedule will cut short opposition speeches. The Senate is slated to vote tomorrow.

Wherry cited reports that the United States may seek to give Britain and Canada more technical information on the A-Bomb under the general mutual assistance provisions of the defense treaty.

He told a reporter that before the pact yote he will ask congressional leaders to "clarify" these reports.

TEL AVIV, Israel —(AP)— The Israeli - Syrian armistice was signed today, it was announced here.

Rebel Army Surrenders

MEXICO CITY — (INS) — Radio reports from Guatemala City said today that Guatemalan army rebels have surrendered unconditionally after a bloody battle in which many persons were killed and wounded.

The broadcasts said the military rebellion was put down after 20 thousand civilians volunteered to aid in ending a rebel siege of the presidential palace.

Salvadorean troops were sent to the Guatemalan frontier as a precautionary measure.

Claims Russians Cracking

Truman Seeks 'Peace Crusade'

CHICAGO —(UP)— President Truman's report that Russia is running into trouble behind her iron curtain today intensified speculation on whether the Soviet grasp on middle Europe is beginning to slip.

The President said as much late yesterday in a speech before 70,000 persons at sun-baked Soldier Field. The occasion of his address was the diamond jubilee convention of the Shriners, a Masonic order to which he has belonged for years.

Declining the traditional red fez, Shriner Truman stood bareheaded before a shirt-sleeved crowd. He invited the rest of the world to join this nation's "great crusade for peace" in the face of mounting "tensions and conflicts" behind the iron curtain.

He supplemented his statements at a nighttime banquet where he said the United States should assume "militant" leadership in the United Nations to offset the USSR's "habit" of breaking international agreements.

In his big speech in the afternoon, Mr. Truman did not mention Russia by name but referred to a "concept which now bears the name of communism."

HINTS 'SMOKE SCREEN'

He said the "concept" opposing democracy was trying to push smaller nations around with "lies, propaganda and hysteria" and implied that this was a smoke screen for troubles within the Soviet orbit.

Within its inner structure, he said, world communism was manifesting "the fatal weaknesses of all dictatorships."

Within the circle of its control today, tensions and conflicts appear to be increasing," he said.

"It may have temporary triumphs, but in the long run it must either destroy itself, or abandon its attempt to force other nations into its pattern."

He said democracy's freedom of expression, ideas and representation will prevail in the course of time.

See Early Appointment

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Aides said today President Truman may act soon to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Frank Murphy.

The justice, who died yesterday in Detroit after a heart attack, will be buried Friday after funeral services at Harbor Beach, Mich.

His death came at a time when the court was in summer recess and not likely to delay picking a new justice for any length of time. It will be his third Supreme Court Appointment in four years.

Top mention for Murphy's successor went to two senators, both Roman Catholics like Murphy who was the only member of his faith on the high court bench.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), who wanted to run for vice president on the ticket with Mr. Trumand last year but yielded to Alben W. Barkley, was credited in some quarters with having an inside track for the appointment.

However, O'Mahoney, a westerner, shared a place in the speculation with Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, the Democratic national chairman.

Condon Flays Spy Hunters

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Dr. Edward U. Condon, Bureau of Standards director, told Congress today that charges by House spy probers that he is untrustworthy and unfit for public office are "insupportable."

Condon referred to a report by a House un-American Activities subcommittee charging that he is the "weakest link in our atomic security.

The atomic scientist made no specific reference to this charge, but he delcared that the "procedures" of the House committee have "caused considerable troubles and the waste of important time."

Racers Weighing In Today

With the eighth annual News-Journal Soap Box Derby less than three days away, youthful contestants today were putting their sleek coaster creations through weighing in and inspection ceremonies.

Each car must meet national Derby qualifications in weight, size and safe construction before the youngsters will be permitted to compete in any of the 150-odd races throughout United States, Canada and Alaska. The Mansfield ceremonies started at 1 p. m. today at the Naval Training Center on Ashland road.

The Mansfield Derby is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at the new Derby Downs, one-mile west of the city on Route 30-N. Competitors at the new Mansfield Derby will be trying for more than $1,000 in prizes and the four-day all-expenses-paid trip to the national finals in Akron Aug. 14.

West Fourth buses will begin trips to the Derby course on the regular schedule starting at noon Saturday. These trips will continue until after the races are completed Saturday.

The Mansfield Derby is co-sponsored by the News-Journal and Brandenburg Chevrolet company.

Gambling Boss Shot

Assassins Wound 3 Men, Woman

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) —Los Angeles gambling boss Mickey Cohen, a state agent assigned to guard him, his chief lieutenant and a woman were shot today in a gangland assassination attempt in front of Sherry's exclusive Sunset Strip restaurant.

The shooting occurred shortly before dawn as six members of Cohen's party emerged from the night spot and began to get into two waiting automobiles.

The blasts of gunfire came from a vacant lot across the street.

Wounded with Cohen were Harry Cooper, special agent named by California's Attorney General Fred N. Howser to guard Cohen against possible attempts to kill him; Neddie Herbert, his chief lieutenant, and a woman known only as Dee Davis.

Cohen was shot in the left shoulder. Cooper was shot twice in the stomach.

Herbert, who was shot at nine times by gunmen recently and escaped unhurt, suffered a severed spine.

The Davis woman suffered four bullet wouds in the posterior.

Cohen said he was "completely in the dark concerning the shooting," which occurred despite the fact Attorney General Howser admitted yesterday he had assigned Cooper to act as his bodyguard.

Heat Expected To 'Stick' Around

The heat wave that was supposed to leave us today will "stick" around for a while; the weatherman promises more sticky humidity for Mansfield today and tomorrow.

A few scattered showers are expected to fall in the northern part of the state. The mass of cool air from the Northwest that was to give us relief has bogged down on Lake Erie. There is a chance, however, that it will give Mansfield a slight respite from the almost 90 degree heat that has lingered so long.

Tomorrow will be cloudy and more thundershowers. Yesterday's high in Mansfield was 87 degrees at 5 p. m. according to the Civil Air administration station at Municipal airport. Today's low was 69 degrees recorded at 4:30 a. m. The temperature at noon was 84 degrees.

36 Hurt In Air Tragedy

Seven Homes Set On Fire

SEATTLE —(INS)— Six persons were killed late last night and 36 others were injured when a non-scheduled air liner with 32 persons aboard crashed on Seattle's densely-populated south side and set fire to seven houses.

King county Coroner John P. Brill jr., said early today six bodies have been removed from the wreckage. None of the dead have been identified. The bodies were badly charred.

The plane carried 28 passengers and a crew of four.

The twin-engine C-46 plunged to earth minutes after taking off from the King county airport for Chicago.

Seven of the injured were residents of homes damaged by the flames. Six others were firemen hurt while battling the various blazes.

The wide wings of the transport sheared through the frame houses. The plane cut through high tension wires and plunged on like a comet, leaving behind a trail of fire.

The transport, operated by Air Transport Associates, incorporated, buried its nose in one house and minutes later exploded.

Then, hours after firemen had begun to quell the flames, a wing tank exploded and blew four fire fighters into the air. They were seriously injured.

BURST INTO FLAMES

One survivor, Cpl. Joseph Lubic of Connellsville, Pa., said "the plane burst into flames when it hit, then exploded after burning about three or four minutes."

An eye-witness, Ralph R. Smith who lives near the crash scene said there were "two or three explosions. . . ."

Lubic said power in one of the engines cut as the plane started down the runway.

Aboard the plane was the president of Air Transport Associates, incorporation, Amos Heacock, and his wife, Dorothy, who was serving as stewardess.

Heacock, described as one of the heroes of the crash, said there was no panic among the passengers.

The tail of the plane broke off, giving those aboard an easy escape hatch, Heacock added.

Art Diamond, an iron worker, said he reached the scene within minutes after the wreckage of the transport came to a rest atop a private home.

Diamond said he was sitting in his home and:

"I heard a tremendous thud and told my wife it sounded like a plane crash. I hurried into the street and saw the plane on top of a house, flames shooting high into the air."

Frances Improves

The next 48 hours will tell whether nine - year old Frances Prosser will keep her right leg. Her condition was reported somewhat better today. The girl was severly wounded in the right thigh shortly after noon Monday when a gun held by her 11 - year-old sister accidentally discharged. The Prosser family doctor said today he would not know if it will be necessary to amputate for 48 hours. He said, however, that her condition is a "little improved" over yesterday and that signs are "encouraging."

The gun went off when it bumped against the door jamb as Frances' sister, Lora May, was taking it into the house. Frances is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Prosser, 734 Burger avenue.

One Sentence By Wife Can Change The Entire Outlook of 'Wilbur'

NEW YORK—The monotony of modern life sometimes got Wilbur Peeble down.

He felt that way this morning when the alarm clock shrilled him awake. He glanced over at the other twin bed and half-heartedly hoped to see there something to surprise him—perhaps an elephant or a small shetland pony.

But, as usual, he looked only into the eyes of his wife, Trellis Mae, placidly waiting for him to run off the alarm. Wilbur did.

"Animals don't have to wake up to an alarm clock," he said. "Why should men? The day I retire I am going to throw that darn thing right through the window."

But, he figured moodily, that would be 30 years from now, and who could say whether he or the alarm clock would wear out first? He got up to shave and soon noticed a thin streak of crimson on his cheek.

"There are probably 47,000,000 men shaving right at his minute," he thought, "and I have to be the one who cuts himself."

Driving to work Wilbur growled:

"Here I am, just one of maybe 20,000,100 jokers in a mortgaged motor car trying to beat the boss into the office. And there are probably 50,000 traffic cops hiding behind the bushes to catch us. Every day it's the same."

When he got to his desk, he looked around. There were at least 50 other desks exactly like his.

"Everybody doing the same thing," Wilbur grumbled. He strolled over to the water cooler and filled a paper cup.

"Water," he said. "Wonder if there ever really was an office where they put gin in the water cooler?"

At 11:59 Wilbur bolted out the door, grabbed an elevator and managed to get to the drugstore in time to grab a counter seat.

"Malted milk anna ham san'ich," he mumbled. He looked at the man next to him, munching on a sandwich and drinking a malted milk. Wilbur looked the other way. The girl seated on that side was having a sandwich and a malted milk, too.

"Every body even eats the same thing—and at the same time," Wilbur thought in desperation.

And so it went all the day—monotony, monotony, monotony.

When Wilbur got home he was in a blue funk. He kissed his wife absent - mindedly. Then as he looked out at the 14-story apartment across the way he thought uneasily:

"I'll bet right now a husband on every floor just walked in and kissed his wife."

He turned to Trellis Mae and said:

"Honey, why did you marry me anyway?"

"Why, because you were so different," she said.

"H-m-m-m," said Wilbur. He walked into the bathroom, closed the door and studied himself in the mirror. Yes, there were lines of honest character in the face that looked back at him.

"I do look a little different," said Wilbur. "Women are really perceptive." He felt much better.

In the living room Trellis Mae mused to herself:

"I wonder why I really did marry the big ape. I guess it was because he looked so lonesome—like he needed to settle down and lead a nice calm life."

Then Wilbur came back in.

"Put on your glad rags, kid," he said. "Let's have dinner out and take in a show."

"People don't say things like 'glad rags' anymore," laughed his wife.

"I do," said Wilbur, "I'm different, kid."

Luciano's Exile From Rome Was Move Made To Appease Americans

Skeptics in the upper strata of the underworld think the "deportation" of Charlie "Lucky" Luciano from Rome to his native hamlet in Sicily is the malarkey with spaghetti sauce. Luciano has more U. S. dollars than anyone else in Italy, maybe more than the government.

He is regarded as a superman. His notorious criminal record over here endears rather than beclouds him with the populace. The gesture of exile is aimed to please and appease American authorities, who are convinced the sinsister ex-convict is financing and maneuvering the influx of dope to our ports. A high narcotics bureau official had been mysteriously absent for months.

I hear he was in Rome, needling the high-ups to put away Lucky. The hoodlum will have easy access to the red wine and scarlet women of the capital and he owns a plane for the trip.

"The boys brought Luciano $2,000,000 in currency to Havanna, before he was booted out of Cuba, and his huge income from American rackets has never stopped.

That other Page 1 Sicilian, Salvatore Guiliano, is one added reason for Luciano's fury over being nosed down in his birthplace again. The mountain "Robin Hood" is known to have aspirations toward kidnaping the former New York gangster and holding him for a wad of his dirty dough.

Lucky, so tough that he has "taken for a ride" and came back, isn't quite as rugged as Giuliano, and he knows the habits of banditti on that island which spawned the Mafia.

Incidentally, Hollywood is deeply interested in doing a screen melodrama on Giuliano. Italy is strenuously objecting. But that isn't why the project is held up. The producers fear they might finish a picture on the romantic rogue, and after it's in circulation, he might be ignominiously captured, for a ruinous anti - climax.

4-H Project Books Due By Aug. 13

Grading To Start In Several Weeks

The deadline for handing in 4-H club project books in preparation for the Richland county Junior Fair was set at Aug. 13 today by County Agent C. N. McGrew.

Grading of the books will start shortly after that date, McGrew said. He and Miss Mabel Spray, home demonstration agent, are in charge of county 4- H work.

The Junior Fair is scheduled for Aug. 18, 19 and 20 at the Fairground. McGrew urged members to have their project books in on time so that they, their clubs and the county, would get credit for the projects.

Health examinations for girls will start Aug. 8, at which time their 4-H projects will be graded. Health examinations for boys start Aug. 1. Winners for the county will be named King and Queen of the Junior Fair.

The agents said they would conduct a field trip of all projects of each club.

Final grades on a project will consist of the book grade, the advisor's grade, the agent's grade, and the exhibit grade.

It's Moving Day

Newman Firemen In $74,000 Unit

Firemen today moved into their new station at 411 Newman street, erected at the site of a building that had served as a fire house since the days of the horse-drawn wagons.

An open house will be held soon, so that Mansfielders may examine the newest addition to their fire protection system, Chief L. J. Steele said today.

The open house will be delayed until landscaping and other work is completed at the new brick industrial type station, the chief said.

The two-engine building replaces one that had served the city since 1911. A completely modern fire station in all respects, it was built at a cost of $74,648.

While the new station was under construction the No. 4 crew and its 750-gallon Mack pumper was housed at temporary quarters at the Hughes-Keenan building, 621 Newman street.

The new station will allow two trucks to be stationed on Newman street to protect the heavy industrial area of the city.

Chief Steele has requested $30,000 in the 1950 fire department budget, to purchase a new tractor-type aerial ladder truck for the downtown Central station.

City council approved the request and if the budget passes the county budget commision the new truck will be purchased and the ladder truck now at Central station will be moved to No. 4 station, Chief Steele said.

Brownie Camp Winding Up Today

The five 8 day Brownie Scout day camp at Camp Niniwan, ending today, was termed "a huge success," by Mrs. P. C. Davis, camp chairman.

PLAN HOBO DAY —

Today is "Hobo Day" for the children at the Johns Park playground. The program began at 10 a. m. when the youngsters will leave the park with lunches fastened to a stick over their shoulders, hoboe fashion and proceed to John Todd park. Contests and sports are planned for the afternoon. The playground leaders in charge of the group are Richard McMullen, Miss Marilyn Miller and Miss Dolores Powenski.

BACK ROAD CAUTION—

Richland county farmers are hoping that motorists will be a little cautious while traveling country roads this summer. Farmers, who are using the back roads frequently now for transporting combines, threshing machines and tractors for harvesting are often faced with a speeding car at the top of hills. Since the farm machinery is often wider and more cumbersome than an auto, the farmers are pulling their equipment as far off the road as is safe, but they ask that all motorists drive a little more slowly on the back roads so that no mishaps will result.

OVER A BARREL —

Harold Snyder, courthouse custodian, has a shotgun barrel in his office that he'd like to get rid of. Snyder said he found the 20-gauge shotgun barrel on his office desk about two weeks ago and thought that the owner would come around and claim it. Nobody came 'round and Snyder is getting tired of looking at it. It's single barrel, in very good shape, Snyder said.

FIND EVIDENCE—

Police found the "evidence" early today but a little the worse for wear. Reed Herr, watchman at the Mansfield Lumber company, 243 North Mulberry, called police at 1:25 a. m. and said he saw three boys run from the vicinity of the Central Fruit and Grocery north on Mulberry and into an alley leading to the Honegger - Hanley Mill. Herr said the boys were carrying "heavy objects." Detailed to the vicinity, police found a B and O boxcar near the grocery company had been broken open and notified railroad officials. The evidence? The remains of three wellscraped watermelons.

TEASING BLAMED —

Sometimes it's the little boys who tease dogs who should be tied for 10 days, police believe. Yesterday afternoon, a West Fourth street mother called police to report that her five-year-old son had been bitten by a neighbor dog at the neighbor's home. Police went to see the neighbor who said she keeps the dog tied in the back yard but that the little boy comes to the yard and teases the dog. The child was not badly bitten, police said.

Father Fined After Threat

GALION — William J. Larue, 55, Edwards street resident, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in city jail by Mayor H. H. Hartmann at a hearing in his court last night on a charge of assault in a menacing manner.

Larue was arrested Monday night after allegedly threatening his family and defying police. His son, Jason, persuaded his father to surrender as police were about to use tear gas to drive him from his home.

The trouble started when Larue's 15-year-old daughter took the keys from his automobile after he had driven into the ditch in front of the home. Police reported Larue obtained a shotgun and revolver and drove from the house, later making his stand against police officers and threatening any that tried to arrest him.

Ashland Residents Upset As Aromatic Animal Pays Visit

ASHLAND — Morgan avenue, one of Ashland's newest sections, almost had to change its name to Aroma avenue Tuesday night.

It all began when a meek-looking little pussy-cat with a white stripe down its back ventured into the dorway of the Robert Williams home.

Williams' attempt to shoo the kitty away ended in disaster—for Williams.

Several neighborhood dogs attempted a chase,. That was disastrous too — for the dogs.

Finally the entire neighborgot into such an uproar that somebody called police.

Patrolman John Geier, who had won himself laurels the previous night for his part in capturing a crazed ex-convict in the opposite end of town, gingerly set out for this latest catastrophe. Before he arrived somebody fired a shot. That ended the kitty but Morgan avenue still (pardon the expression) stunk.

Westies Win Third In National

Late inning rallies decided the issue in two of the three National Softball league games last night.

Westinghouse maintained its league lead by pushing across five runs in the top of the seventh to edge Lumbermens, 13 to 10, at North Lake park. The winners got only one hit, a double by Howie Waldman, in the big inning. Four walks and three errors helped the winning runs across the platter.

Westinghouse has won three and lost none while 164th Fighter Squadron is second with one win in one start. The Flyers were idle last night.

The young D. & M. Cigar Store team turned in the top effort in edging Ideal Electric, 3 to 2, at Prospect park. Don Gross, former Senior high baseball star, gave Ideal only three hits and single runs in the first and third innings.

The Cigars knotted the count in the sixth when A. C. Jenkins, all-round Tyger athlete, opened the rally with a home run. Dave Marks, Buddy Konves and Joe Ross followed with singles. In the seventh Coonie Miraglotta was safe on an error. Joe Radio strolled and Jenkins singled to load the sacks. A lone fly by Marks accounted for the winning run.

In the other contest, Office Cafe knocked Mansfield Tire off the undefeated list, 9 to 3, at Liberty park. The Tiremen outhit Office Cafe, 8 to 7.

Experts Believe Yankees Are Sliding; Brooklyn Increases Lead In National

By JOE REICHLER
(AP Sports Writer)

Is this the start of that long-awaited New York Yankee collapse?

Baseball experts, who vowed the Yankees would finish no higher than fourth this year, wore that old wise look today.

They may have something there. The Bronx Bombers of late have looked like anything but the league leaders they are.

In losing yesterday, 5-4, to Cleveland, the Yankees extended their losing skein to three in a row. They now have dropped four of their last five games, three of them to second division clubs. Their lead has shrunk to three and a half games over the advancing Indians.

Why, the Brooklyn Dodgers own the same lead in the National league—three and a half games over the St. Louis Cardinals. And that was supposed to be a tense, tight struggle.

The Boston Red Sox climbed back into third place, seven and a half games off the pace, defeating the Chicago White Sox, 6-4. Vern Stephens' two-run single highlighted the Red Sox three-run ninth inning.

The Tigers blew a 6-0 lead behind Hal Newhouser, but bounced back to eke out a 7-6 triumph over the Washington Senators. Three successive eight inning walks plus a long fly by Johnny Lipon brought in the winning run.

Four home runs helped the St. Louis Browns sweep a twilight night doubleheader from the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-4 and 5-4. It was the Browns' fifth straight victory. Bob Dillinger was the chief gun in the Brownie attack, turning in six consecutive hits—three singles and a triple in the opener.

The Dodgers picked up a full game on the Cardinals, edging out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3, while the Boston Braves knocked off the Red-birds, 5-2. Bruce Edwards singled with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth to snap a 3-3 tie.

Southpaw Warren Spahn posted his 11th triumph, limiting the Cardinals to six hits as the Braves batted Max Lanier out of the box in the fourth. Elbie Fletcher socked a three-run homer.

BATTER CINCY

Scoring at least once in every inning, the New York Giants battered three Cincinnati hurlers for 20 hits including three homers to humble the Reds, 13-3. Hank Thompson, Johnny Mize and Marshall contributed home runs.

Lefty Ken Heintzelman pitched another masterpiece as the Philadelphia Phils nipped the Chicago Cubs, 1-0. Heintzelman scattered nine hits for his 12th victory against three defeats.

Lumbermens 9 Zooms Back Into Girls' League Lead

Lumbermens lost little time last night in crawling back into undisputed possession of first place in the Girls' Softball league.

The Lumbermens crew smashed Spudnuts, 30 to 3, at John Todd park to account for its fifth straight victory. Westinghouse had tied for the top Monday by winning its fourth in a row.

Tonight, Lumbermens plays Ohio Sport Center at North Lake park. Sport Center has won four and lost one.

Lumbermens racked Spudnuts pitching for 27 hits last night, including two home runs by Banks. The winners also cracked eight doubles and a triple. Shortstop Walters had a single, two doubles and a triple while Crawford scored six runs.

Thomas, Lumbermens pitcher, allowed only two hits, struck out 15 and walked 11.

Madison Nine In Close Win In Loop Game

LEXINGTON — Madison built up an early lead to defeat Lexington in a postponed Central Ohio Junior league game here last night, 6 to 5.

Manager Harold Snyder's team scored two runs in each of the first three innings while Lexington picked up a single run in the second. With the bases loaded in the fourth, Pitcher Duane Wirick doubled home three Lexington runs and scored himself on a single by J. Wentz.

Indians Beat Yanks Behind Lemon

Hegan's Big Stick Wins Game, 5 To 4

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Those many fans who thought Cleveland Indian Catcher Jim Hegan was in a batting slump were a bit red-faced today Little did they know he was saving all his "punch" for the New York Yankees.

It was the booming bat of Hegan that gave the Tribe a 5-4 victory over the league-leaders at the stadium yesterday and moved the Redskins to within three and a half games of first place.

With the score tied 4-4 in the last half of the ninth inning, big Jim stepped to the plate and cracked his fifth home run of the season over the left field fence, much to the approval fo the 52,800 fans who watched the two clubs open a three-game series.

The Yanks, however, will be out for revenge tonight when they meet the Indians once more. Bob Feller is slated to pitch for Cleveland against the Bombers' Ed Lopat. Feller will be seeking his seventh win of the season against the same number of losses. A crowd of more than 70,000 is expected.

Not only did Hegan win the game for the Tribe, he also collected a single and a double in his other two official trips to the plate and scored three of the Indians' five runs

Credit for the win went to Bob Lemon, who limited the Yanks to seven hits in notching his 11th game of the season against only four defeats. Allie Reynolds started the game for the Bronx sluggers but he was relieved by Duane Pillette in the seventh after he was taken out for a pinch hitter

TRIBE SCORES FIRST

Cleveland opened the scoring in the third when Ray Boone singled with Hegan on second base The Yanks, however, came back with three runs in the fourth on a home run by Catcher Larry Berra with two mates aboard.

Lemon tied up the ball game in the fifth by slashing his fourth home run of the season over the right field fence with Hegan on base

An error by Mickey Vernon gave the Yanks their fourth run in the eighth, but the Tribe retaliated with one more in their half of the frame

With Phil Rizzuto on second and Berra on first Bobby Brown hit a grounder to Vernon, who fumbled the ball and after he recovered it he threw wild to Lemon at first, permitting Rizzuto to score.

Larry Doby gave the Indians new hope in the eighth when he lashed a triple to left-center field. After two men were out, Manager Lou Boudreau brought in the tying run with a double over Right Fielder Cliff Mapes' head

Woodling Out After Injury

CLEVELAND —(INS)— The New York Yankees will have to continue their pennant drive without the services of left fielder Gene Woodling for the next three weeks.

The former Mansfield Brave outfielder suffered a shipped fracture of the tibia, near his left knee and bruised his left shoulder running into the fence at Cleveland stadium yesterday to catch a long drive from the bat of Bob Kennedy.

Woodling will return to New York today, and Hank Bauer will replace him in left field.

New York Giants Rap Cincy, 13-3

NEW YORK —(AP)— The Cincinnati Reds slipped back into the old rut last night

After winning two of three games from Boston, the Redleg pitchers took an unmerciful clubbing from New York and a 13 to 3 licking from the Giants. The Giants scored in every inning and thus became the first National league team to perform that feat since Pittsburgh did it against Brooklyn in 1935 It was only the eight time it had happened in the major leagues since 1900.

Cleveland Browns List 2 Holdouts

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Only two football players remained outside the Cleveland Browns fold today with the team's training camp due to open at Bowling Green next Monday.

John Yonakor, defensive right end, and center Mel Maceau were the only two holdouts left after the signing of star right end Dante Lavelli yesterday.

Cincy Promoter Will Try To Stop Lesnevich Fight

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Sam Becker, Cincinnati's loquacious clothing manufacturer who promotes fights as a hobby, is ready to back his words with dollars to prevent Gus Lesnevich from meeting Ezzard Charles in New York for a version of the world's heavyweight boxing championship

Becker learned yesterday that Harvey L. Miller, executive secretary of the National Boxing association, had said Lesnevich would be suspended in 47 states for "breach of contract" if he goes through with the fight with Charles

Becker was quick to catch on that even that suspension could not stop the fight, scheduled to be held in New York on Aug 10 because New York state doesn't go along with the NBA But he announced promptly that he'd go to court to seek an injunction to stop the fight

The Cincinnati promoter says he has a signed contract for Lesnevich to meet Joey Maxim of Cleveland here on Sept. 19 for NBA recognition as American light heavyweight champion. And he says the contract provides that Lesnevich will not engage in any exhibition bouts prior to that scrap.

Maxim defeated Lesnevich here last May in a battle that cost Becker something like $40,000

Miller said the NBA would recognize any suspension imposed by the Cincinnati Boxing commission but he suggested it might be a good idea for the local group to go along with Lesnevich in the Charles fight He declared Lesnevich still would have to go through with the Maxim bout and said it might wind up with a heavyweight championship fight here if Lesnevich defeated Charles

Becker, however, took a dim view of that possibility.

He asserted Lesnevich "would not be worth two cents" if he should be knocked out by Charles.

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor—and neighbor, it's your price!

Whitey's icehouse comes close to being as cool as a nice long drink of you know what!
Every twice a week in the summertime us Wilkens have a little job we don't kick up any fuss about at all. And that's stopping by at Whitey's for the ice. It's my brother, William hosing off a cake—and me just dawdling over the job and letting shivers run up me. Our dog Jessie's tongue was out about a foot till Tom fed her a chunk of ice.

ICE
THE WILKEN FAMILY

On a hot day, a frosty drink made with Our Family's Recipe sure goes good!

When a drink is so extra tasty and refreshing, it takes care of your thirst like nothing else!

If there's any time in all the year when a long, cooling drink made with Our Family's Whiskey goes good, it's on a roasting hot day! The way it slithers down your throat so nice and easy—it feels as smooth as a hunk of ice. And so far as tastiness goes, folks say by golly they never tasted anything that comes near to being so tasty.

And when you come down to it—this Recipe of ours couldn't scarcely help but be about the tastiest you ever touched your lips to. Do you know how many years us Wilkens have been busying ourselves at making whiskey? Some sixty years or thereabouts to be exact. And in sixty years, Grandpa Wilken, Pa Wilken and us three were just bound to get the hang of putting a heap of tastiness into Our Recipe.

But don't you go and get it into your head you're going to have to plunk down a lot of extra cash for this extra tastiness. No sir. Just take a look over by our bottle there, and note the price. O. K.?

Veterans Commission Launches Fight to Free GI's Slayer

Writ Filed For Release

Claim Board Erred In Sanity Issue

LEWISBURG, Pa. — (AP) — U. S. District Judge Frederick V. Follmer today considered a petition to free a Cleveland army captain from prison in the shooting of an American soldier in Germany.

Judge Follmer yesterday heard a plea for the release of Captain Vincent F. Cochrane, 29. The request for a writ of habeas corpus was made by counsel for the Joint Veterans commission of Cuyahoga county, Ohio.

Captain Cochrane is serving a 10-year prison sentence at the New Cumberland, Pa., army disciplinary barracks for the slaying of Pvt. Roy L. Konrad, of Head River, Ga., on March 26, 1947 in a beer hall in Bad Constatt, Germany.

Morris Morgenstern, Cleveland attorney who represented the veterans group, contended the court martial board which tried Cochrane erred in refusing to hear evidence concerning Cochrane's sanity during his trial.

Morgenstern said Cochrane suffered shrapnel wounds in the head and face during the war "which bothered him so that he wasn't normal at the time of the shooting." Cochrane served with a tank company.

The attorney said the case should have been reviewed by a medical board before the captain was tried by a court martial. By not doing so, Morgenstern said, the investigating officer was a fault.

Morgenstern said he had proof Cochrane received psychiatric treatment both before and after the shooting.

Entry of the Cuyahoga county legal committee into the case of Captain Cochrane is third time the veterans commission has figured in court fights to free veterans.

The committee re-opened the case of Thomas A. Gusik, 19, who had been sentenced to life imprisonment in connection with the murder of two Italian civilians. As a result, a federal court in Columbus on April 1 ordered his release.

The committee still is aiding Fred Fox, a 19-year-old escapee from a Florida prison camp, in his fight against extradition. Fox was sentenced to 10 years in the Live Oak, Fla., camp on a robbery charge. He escaped last August and fled to Cleveland.

Holmes County Cock Fight Raid Brings Fines to 5

Woman, 74, Included In Those Cited

Owner of Place Still In Jail

MILLERSBURG — Five persons, including a woman, were fined by Justice William G. Close following their arrests when Holmes county sheriff deputies raided a cockerel fight in progress near Killbuck Sunday afternoon.

It marked the first such arrests in Holmes for this law violation over a period of years. Howard "Ike" Wheaton, 72, of Killbuck, R. D. 1, at whose place Sheriff Starner said the fight was held, is in jail until his fine of $200 and costs is paid. The others were fined $25 and costs each and released upon payment.

Communism Conceals the Facts

THE MAIN argument for communism—which is dutifully accepted by all party members and fellow travelers—is that it is the only way to save the "common man" from cruel exploitation and give him a healthier, happier, more abundant life; the same goes for socialism and government ownership of business, which are just softer names for communism.

On that premise Russia has built her police state and her regimented economy in which private business does not exist, there is no real competition, and the government runs everything.

How has it worked out? In capitalistic America, a wage earner gets an average of $10 for eight hours work. A Russian has to put in 81 hours of labor to earn the equivalent. To make still another comparison, about 37 hours of work by a typical American industrial worker will pay for a good new suit.

If the Russian wants a new suit, by contrast, he must toil more than 500 hours, and the chances are that the suit will be of poor quality.

Firearms That Endanger Children

ONCE AGAIN the danger of leaving firearms where they are accessible to young children is brought forcefully to the attention of Mansfielders by the distressing accident which occurred here a few days ago.

In this instance, in an entirely accidental way, a shotgun being handled by an 11-year-old girl was discharged while pointed in the direction of her 9-year-old sister, who was so badly injured that she may be crippled for life.

Many people regard a revolver, rifle or shotgun as an essential part of home equipment, and in at least some instances these are kept loaded and in readiness for use if needed for protection.

It cannot be too strongly emphasized, however, that such deadly weapons should at all times be out of the reach of young children or irresponsible persons.

Law Violators Class As Ignorant

IMPORTANCE of education as a deterrent to crime was given special emphasis in a talk by Rev. Martin W. Wappner, state reformatory chaplain, at yesterday's meeting of the Mansfield Rotary club.

In his capacity as religious adviser at the reformatory, Rev. Wappner is in excellent position to observe the behavior of various inmates, as related to the schooling they received before getting into trouble, and he finds that a high percentage attended no more than the primary grades, while the percentage of inmates dwindled substantially where school attendance had carried through the eighth grade—with relatively few high school graduates among the inmates.

Ignorance, coupled with faulty early environment, must therefore be credited, in large degree, with juvenile misconduct which later leads to more serious infractions of law and eventual incarceration in a penal institution.

All of which points up the fact that every mentally and physically normal child should be encouraged to take advantage of educational opportunities, and that a public obligation along this line should be recognized in cases of parental negligence or unconcern.

Example of Real Monopoly

LEWIS HANEY, professor of economics at New York University, recently described what resulted when John L. Lewis ordered the soft coal miners of the country to stay off the job for a week.

The miners lost a week's pay. Many railroad men who haul coal were unemployed during the period. Purchasing power was reduced, and this was felt in retail trade and other fields. Coal users were encouraged to shift to other fuels.

Miners were given the idea that all they need think about is wages, regardless of production or the welfare of the industry which employs them.

If Mr. Lewis, or anyone else, can stop production of an essential commodity for a week, he can do it for a month or a year or indefinitely. The significant thing about the last work stoppage in the coal mines is that it is a perfect example of a labor monopoly.

Without Mr. Lewis' approval, there can be practically no commercial production of soft coal. Yet this mine union, with its vast powers, cannot be reached by the anti-trust laws, or by any other legislation which is supposed to prevent monopoly and combinations in restraint of trade.

May Compromise Tidelands Issue

IT IS REPORTED that a compromise is being worked out on the controversy between the federal government and the states of California, Texas and Louisiana with regard to the control of oil lands under the coastal waters. It is expected to be an arrangement under which the states and the federal government would share revenues from oil concessions in the disputed areas.

It would be much happier for all concerned if some agreeable plan could be worked out, instead of settling the matter by an arbitrary act of Congress or court finding. But it would be regrettable if Congress should approve a compromise which might fail to provide a clear-cut answer to the essential question of whether the offshore lands belong to the states or the federal government.

As viewed by Claude Callan: "Families are smaller than they used to be. Wives have more husbands, but fewer children."

The annual argument is now going on as to whether people suffer more from the heat than from the cold.

What Some Other People Are Saying

U. S. Chamber of Commerce President HERMAN W. STEINKRAUS: "I believe a sound solution to our present economic situation is for wages to be held steady and for labor to refrain from further demands at this time, while price reductions should be made by manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers as rapidly as possible."

* * *

GOV. THOMAS E. DEWEY: "We have made enormous sacrifices in the cause of peace. We are entitled to know that no doctrinaire group can sacrifice the peace either to pet projects of socialism or nationalism."

* * *

JACKIE ROBINSON, Brooklyn Dodger star: "The white public should start toward real understanding by appreciating that every single Negro who is worth his salt is going to resent any kind of slur and discrimination because of his race and he's going to use every bit of intelligence he has to stop it."

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

WITH great reluctance, I decided to vote against the Atlantic Pact, because an examination of the circumstances proves beyond question that it obligates us to a program of arming the nations of Western Europe. I had hoped that the two might be separated, but they were negotiated together. European nations signed with an understanding that they were to get arms, and the state department, in substance, admits that the Pact and the arms are inseparable. I would vote for the Pact if a reservation were adopted denying any legal or moral obligation to provide arms, but even those who assert that there is no obligation refuse to say so clearly by supporting such a reservation. I would like to be able to vote for a declaration or a treaty which would commit us to go to war if Russia attacks Western Europe.

Such a declaration or treaty would be a deterrent to war. But combined with a vast program to arm half the world against the other half, the entire program in my opinion will be more likely to produce a Third World War than to maintain the peace of the world.

* * *

SINCE the days of the League of Nations, I have always favored the United States agreeing to go to war against an aggressor, although I believe it should be done in accordance with the decision of an international body operating under the rules of law and justice.

I voted for the United Nations Charter, and I would like to vote for an extension of the Monroe Doctrine by which we would warn Russia that if it attacks Western Europe, we will be in the war. If Hitler had known that we would enter the war, the Second World War might never have begun.

But when the arms program is made part of the Pact, as it is, it becomes a military alliance encouraging every nation in Western Europe to arm itself to the teeth.

Of course, it is intended to be defensive only, but the line between defense and offense today is indeed a shadowy one.

The Maginot Line was the essence of pure defense. Today it is the target of ridicule. We cannot have an adequate armament for defense which cannot be converted overnight into a weapon of offense. This Treaty means therefore, inevitably, an armament race, and armament races in the past have always led to war.

The Pact standing by itself would clearly be a deterrent to war, but if Russia sees itself ringed about gradually by so-called defensive arms from Norway and Denmark to Turkey and Greece, it may decide that war is inevitable and that it had better come before the arming is completed.

* * *

I BELIEVE that the Pact with the arms obligation violates the United Nations Charter. The Charter recognizes the right of collective self-defense if an armed attack occurs.

A prior undertaking by the most powerful nation in the world to arm half the world against the other violates this provision and the whole spirit of the U. N. Charter.

It makes a farce of further efforts to secure international peace through law and justice. It makes permanent the division of the world into two armed camps.

* * *

THE obligation to furnish arms is either a mere token obligation, or it is one of vast extent. The President recommends $1½ billion this year. But it would cost $24 billion to equip 60 modern divisions, which may be completely inadequate.

We have found the ECA program burdensome, but now it is proposed to enter into a new lend-lease project which once begun cannot be easily reduced or brought to an end.

I do not believe this country can stand two programs, one of economic assistance, and one of military assistance. The first, I believe, has contributed, and will contribute to peace. The second, I think, will make war more likely.

Frankly Speaking

About Minimum Wages

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — There's a low rumble in Congress again about raising minimum wages.

But whether Congress will really do anything about them, before quitting for the summer and the rest of 1949, is something else.

If nothing happens, it will be another campaign promise of the Democrats and President Truman unfulfilled by Congress.

This is the background:

In 1938 Congress passed the minimum wage law. Under that law people working in certain kinds of businesses had to be paid:

At least 25 cents an hour until 1939, then 30 cents an hour until 1945, and 40 cents an hour after 1945.

That law hasn't been changed since 1938. So the 40 cents an hour, reached in 1945, is still the lowest wage that can be paid people in certain kinds of businesses.

These businesses were certain firms doing business across state lines. For example: Lumber, tobacco, leather, clothing, furniture, food products.

Congress was able to pass the law covering them because the government controls interstate commerce and, since their business crossed state lines, they were in interstate commerce.

But the law didn't cover, for instance, a local drug store that did business entirely within a state. In addition, Congress said that some businesses which did do business across state lines were not under the law. For example:

Farming, fishing, airlines, and retail outlets like department stores. So in all those not covered by the law the employers could pay below the minimum set by the law.

* * *

Many Not Included.

THE LAW was intended to set a floor under wages, or at least under the wages paid by a lot of businesses.

But living costs have risen greatly since 1938 when the law was passed and since 1945 when 40 cents an hour became the lowest wage the covered firms could pay.

Six times in the past three years President Truman has asked Congress to take notice that living costs have risen and to raise the minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75 cents.

About 22,600,000 people are now covered by the law which requires that they be paid at least 40 cents an hour. But of that number only about 1,500,000 are receiving less than 75 cents an hour.

Those receiving less than 75 cents an hour are mostly in such businesses as lumber, tobacco, apparel, furniture, food products, wholesale trade.

President Truman and his advisers wanted Congress not only to raise the present minimum from 40 to 75 cents an hour but to spread the law to cover a number of businesses not now covered, particularly places like department stores, chain stores and hotels.

They figure that would bring at least another 5,000,000 workers under the protection of the law and give all of them at least 75 cents an hour. It's been estimated that all but 900,000 of the additional 5,000,000 are now receiving at least 75 cents an hour.

What's the idea behind this? Labor and President Truman's advisers urge Congress to place a higher floor under wages. They argue that it will create more purchasing power among workers and give more of them fairer treatment.

Hoffman Against Idea of Gift To Spain

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It hasn't been published, but ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman has written a strong private letter to Senator Vandenberg, protesting the plan to award a special $50,000,000 gift to Spain.

This grant for the Spanish dictator, to be taken out of Marshall Plan funds, was slipped into the ECA appropriations bill by Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada, Democrat, at the prompting of Catholic leaders.

It has aroused vigorous opposition from Protestant churchmen because of their contention that Protestants in Spain are given only second-class citizenship, and that the same principle of religious discrimination exists in Spain against Protestants as exists in the Iron Curtain countries against Catholics.

Hoffman, in his letter to Senator Vandenberg, avoided religious references, but warned:

"Because no work has yet started on a recovery program for Spain, it would be most unwise to attempt to gear such a program immediately into the present European recovery program. It would also violate the principle of European initiative.

Furthermore, it would create the most difficult political problems for us if we were to attempt to force the OEEC to admit Spain. Admission of new members should, it seems to me, be initiated in the OEEC itself."

* * *

No Spanish Plans.

"BEFORE granting or loaning Spain money," Hoffman continued, "we should first request that Spain herself develop a recovery program, just as we have insisted that the participating countries develop their recovery program. This program should then be studied, screened, and laid before the Congress as a separate project exactly as was done in the case of Korea. The Congress could then make its decision on a rational and informed basis. Any other course would constitute reversion to a practice which in past years has proved wasteful."

Nevertheless the Senate appropriations committee granted Dictator Franco a $50,000,000 share in the Marshall Plan, without even requiring him to tell how he was going to use the money—though this was demanded of all the other nations.

Note: In addition to church pressure, two Spanish diplomats worked secretly with Senator McCarran and Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico to put across the $50,000,000. They were: Ambassador-at-large Jose Felix De Lequerica, wartime ambassador to Vichy, who came to Washington several months ago for the official purpose of "inspecting the embassy" and has been here ever since; also counselor Pablo Merry Del Val, nephew of the late Cardinal Rafael Merry Del Val.

Cuts Hospital Beds.

WHILE President Truman is preaching federal spending, he is also practicing economy—in veterans' hospitals. He has ordered 16,000 beds cut out of 24 hospitals, even though Congress has already appropriated the money for these beds.

All the persuasion Senator Claude Pepper, Florida Democrat, could summon didn't change the President's mind on this the other day. Truman bluntly replied that he was standing on his original decision.

Pepper then pleaded with the President to take up each veterans' hospital individually, but he shook his head. He had acted upon the recommendations of the Veterans Administration, itself, he retorted.

"Won't you designate someone we can argue with on this?" begged Pepper.

"All right, argue with the bureau of the budget," Truman suggested brusquely.

Pepper acted as spokesman for two veterans of foreign wars leaders who accompanied him to the White House. They were Lyall Beggs, commander, and Omar Ketchum, legislative chief, whose mission was to invite the President to attend the VFW national convention beginning August 22 in Miami.

Turman promised to make a "flying trip" to the convention if Congress didn't load his desk with too many last-minute bills. And, in passing, the President dropped a hint as to when Congress might adjourn.

Turning to Pepper, Truman remarked: "I don't think there is a ghost of a chance of you fellows getting out of here until Labor day."

Ketchum said he understood they were shooting for August 20. "I think they will get out around Labor day," Truman repeated.

House For $5,900.

HOUSING expediter Tighe Woods has quietly built two attractive, low-cost homes—just to prove it can be done. He worked out the plans with Richard Barr, a Chicago architect. Each home will sell, complete with electric utilities, for $5,900—and still leave a fair profit. Ordinarily the same homes would sell at twice that price. Yet Woods figures the cost can be cut another $1,000 by mass-scale production.

Imagine This, Can You!

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — The average American woman, who is all things to all press agents, is a dumpy, sawed-off cupcake with a chest expansion like a fire plug, a waist like a beer barrel and stenographer's spread from A to izzard.

This enchanting description of American womanhood has been given me gratis by an outfit which calls itself the Corset and Brassiere Association of America. Never mind what I call it.

According to the association, the corset tycoons and the brassiere kings of America have had nothing better to do for months than run around the country armed with tape measures, making like a hyperthyroid judge at a bathing beauty contest.

The result of so much diligence and enlightened self interest is proof that there ain't no such animal as the tall, slim, lissome, svelte and willowy American beauty.

The Corset and Brassiere association, an outfit with a two-way stretch nerve, apparently has more brass and bounce than most of its products. For the boys, with tape measures in their hot little hands, have come up with proof that the average American woman is just a minor Gargantua.

Resembling a squash more than a string bean, the A. A. W. stands a scant five feet three inches in her nylons, measures thirty-five and a half inches around the cornice, 29 inches at the waist, 38 inches in the beam, and weighs 133 pounds.

Invasion of Privacy.

TWO OTHER fascinating facts have also been churned up by these research traveling salesmen. First, the farmer's daughter, a lass who ought to acquaint herself with the nation's libel laws, is heftier than her city sister.

And, two, while the poor may not of necessity get poorer these days, neither do the rich get richer. They just get slimmer. It ain't enough a girl should be poor and honest, she should also reduce! Here is a ready made issue, if ever I saw one, for the Fair Deal to get behind and push, preferably with Indian clubs.

Of course, the most mystifying aspect of this whole report is why some high-type average American woman didn't haul off and sock the brassiere and corset tycoons on the button when they began to make with the tape measure.

It is probably true that nothing is sacred any more, but it seems to me that in the future when a man knocks at the cottage door, tells the lady of the house he is working his way through college and unleashes a tape measure, she should at least be permitted to slap his sassy face.

It is with some alarm I am forced to realize that the whole fashion scene is pervaded by Peeping Toms. Two hundred American manufacturers of lingerie have just organized to make the average American woman conscious of the alleged sloppy underwear over which she wears her alleged Paris models.

The lingerie boys claim they have had "a horrified peek or two at the unglamorous, unfashionable and untidy" underwear worn by the A.A.W.

All I have to say is that we have been wearing exactly what the lingerie boys have been manufacturing. And if they don't like the looks, then they'd better cut some new patterns.

The lingerie manufacturers' pious wish to "remove an estimated 50,000,000 safety pins off the shoulderstraps of the nation" will be heartily echoed by 50,000,000 average American women, who can't all be wrong.

In the first place, just sew those shoulder straps on real good and tight, boys. That's all we ask. Just sew 'em on good and tight. Don't tack 'em on as is your custom, or glue 'em either. That comes out in the wash. Sew 'em on good, and we won't need those safety pins.

And another point, gentlemen, get the hell away from that keyhole!

As Cerf Tells It

The terrible-tempered Donald Klopfer trudged into the Hollywood club locker room after a tough eighteen-hole round of golf. "Didn't lose a single ball this afternoon," he reported with some satisfaction. "Just a driver, three irons, and a putter."

Speaking of Your Health

Disease of Middle Age

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

CHRONIC or long-continued disturbances may be compared to smouldering fires. Instead of the violent, well-defined symptoms caused by sudden, acute illness, they more often bring about a general state of poor health in which the patient has not one or two complaints but half a dozen or more.

One such disorder is known as chronic hepatitis or inflammation of the liver. This is an important disorder, especially past middle age.

The symptoms, in most cases, consist of tiredness and weakness, loss of appetite, pain over the liver, headache, intestinal cramps, diarrhea, and loss of weight.

There may be pain in the abdomen, mental symptoms, itching of the skin, and disturbances of the glands associated with reproduction. In early cases, the symptoms may be mild and may even be undetected.

In Severe Form.

Exercising makes the symptoms worse, though this may not be noticeable until the following day, but then they persist in severe form for several days.

Liver tenderness is one of the most important signs in making a diagnosis. This liver tenderness also is worse after exercise. Another characteristic of this condition is its tendency to clear up and then recur on repeated occasions.

Laboratory examinations may be helpful in making a diagnosis but cannot be relied upon. Such examinations consist of tests to determine how the liver is functioning or acting. The liver has many different functions, such as storing sugars and vitamins and forming bile. In the most severe cases, these tests may give no evidence of disturbance of the liver function, but, in other cases of less severe symptoms, disturbance of the liver function may be indicated.

Complete Rest.

In the treatment of this disorder, complete rest in bed is important. In addition, choline, which is a part of the vitamin B-complex, and methionine, an amino acid, are useful. Amino acids are the substances from which proteins are made. The proteins are found in such foods as meat, milk, and eggs.

It is also suggested that the amount of fat in the diet be markedly restricted but that it contain plenty of the protein foods and an adequate amount of starchy foods and all necessary vitamins.

As a complication of the liver damage, there may be inflammation of the stomach or some irritation of the bowel.

It is not book learning young men need, nor instruction about this and that, but a stiffening of the vertebrae which will cause them to be loyal to a trust, to act promptly, concentrate their energies, do a thing—"carry a message to Garcia." — Elbert Hubbard.

Fruits of the New Deal.

Edward F. Prichard, jr., another of the bright young men whose stars soared toward the zenith during the New Deal, has been convicted in Kentucky of conspiracy to forge election ballots.

He is of course only one of the superior youngsters whose exposure to the Washington environment of that time has led them into trouble.

The fault in the environment was not in the ends sought by the New Deal, which, even when unwise, were well enough intentioned. The fault lay, rather, in an intellectual arrogance once summed up in the phrase that the people were "too damn dumb" to understand what was good for them. The ends in view were held to justify any amount or sort of cynicism in the means used to accomplish them.—Detroit News.

71st Annual Conference Session Closes July 31

Free Methodist Camp Opens

By BILL HERRING
(News-Journal State Editor)

The 71st annual session of the Ohio Conference of the Free Methodist church opened last night on the Mansfield camp grounds, each of the city on State Route 39, and continues through July 31.

The tent-cottage site will accommodate 800 persons during the week with nearly 2,000 comprising the week end congregations. The grounds boast 30 individually-owned cottages, 80 tents, a three-floor hotel accommodating 50 plus numerous other dormitory rooms in other buildings that are rented.

The camp meeting proper got under way last evening and extends through July 26 when the morning sittings, or conference period, takes over. During the conference pastor appointments for the coming year will be made and district superintendents elected.

There are three districts in the state with the Mansfield area being in the Canton-Toledo district. The others are the Cleveland and

BISHOP C. V. FAIRBAIRN

Zanesville districts. All districts will be represented at the camp meeting and conference.

Bishop C. V. Fairbairn, of McPherson, Kas., will preside at the conference sessions. Rev. Forman Lincicome, of Gary, Ind., will speak mornings and evenings until the conference starts when he speaks daily at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Loyd Knox, of Rochester, N. Y., is evangelist at the youth meetings. Conference afternoon sessions will be addressed by district ministers, their program scheduled being drawn Tuesday night.

A missionary rally, at 2:30 p. m. on Sunday, July 31, will close the session. It features Rev. and Mrs. Oddvar Berg, recently returned African missionaries.

The final tent erected late Tuesday was the Youth Service tent, a separate tabernacle where daily morning and evening classes will be under the supervision of W. F. Orr, of Toledo, conference president. Miss Irene Stantz, of West Unity, is superintendent of the camp Daily Vacation Bible school which meets daily, except Sunday, from 9 to 11:30 a. m. More than 100 children will receive instruction.

The main tabernacle, seating 1,500 persons, serves as the ground's auditorium. The space is needed considering 800 persons are living on the grounds and the week end congregations swell that number to nearly 2,000.

This year the conference sponsored its first Child Youth Conference on the grounds from June 27 through July 4 with 120 children enrolled. It was the first such venture and the enrollment proved gratifying. The children were given Bible study and classes in manual arts and photography with Rev. R. A. Maxwell, of Toledo, in charge.

NEW YORK HAIR STYLIST'S "CURVACIOUS CONVERTIBLE"

THE FAUN

New York Hair Stylist Presents A Variation On Short Hair-Cut

By JOAN SCHWEITZ

The accompanying three pictures are new variations on the still fashionable short hair-cut. The girl in the top two pictures is wearing her hair in what the New York stylist, who designed the cut , calls a "Curvacious Convertible". The third model's coiffure is entitled "The Faun".

The "curvacious convertible" is adapted to the contours of the face, as all good coiffures should be. Shaping, or sculpturing the hair, the stylist forms a pattern of waves, the design varying with the shape of the face.

With a long face, he directs the waves forward for face framing softness while the round face gets the reverse treatment with waves shaped back and away from the face with one high riding wave at the brow added for height.

Those with an oval face, who can wear any type hair-do, get a versatile style of the Curvacious cut. The stylist tapers each individual strand so that whether the hair is brushed up for an upsweep, backwards or forwards the waves fall naturally into line.

With the "Faun" coiffure, the hair is cut short and brushed flat over the crown, ending in a soft short bang high on the forehead. The hair is brought up and back at the temples, but softly forward at the sides and brushed into soft curls over the ears.

Plans Made For Anniversary

Thirty-five members were in attendance when the Catholic Ladies of Columbus held a covered dish dinner and business session at the K. of C. home. The committee in charge of the arrangements was headed by Mrs. Kenneth Gremling.

Mrs. John Schweitzer, president, conducted the business meeting at which time the delegates who attended the convention held recently in Cleveland gave reports of the sessions. Delegates were Mrs. Thomas Dillon, Mrs. James Herlihy and Mrs. Gremling.

The Catholic Ladies of Columbus will celebrate the 50th anniversary of organization of the St. Helena council in Mansfield on Sunday, October 30, at the K. of C. home. Plans for an initiation and banquet on that day have been started. Committee chairmen appointed are Mrs. Joseph Pilot and Mrs. Dillon, finance; Mrs. John Schweitzer, Mrs. M. M. Vogel and Mrs. Louis Murphy, program; Mrs. Clarence Stuhldreher, decorations; Mrs. Gremling, banquet; Mrs. Herlihy and Mrs. Joseph Seibert, reception; Mrs. Murphy, initiation and Mrs. R. C. Straub, historian.

Invitations will be extended to the supreme officers, and the Springfield degree team will conduct the initiation.

Garden Luncheon Served To Royal Regal Club Tuesday

UNDER TOWERING MAPLES 15 members of the Royal Regal Garden Club were served a lovely luncheon yesterday afternoon in the garden at the home of Mrs. Claude Phipps, 143 Hedges street. Mrs. Harry Kaser served as associate hostess.

The luncheon was served in colorful pottery on a red and white checked cloth and the table was centered with salmon phlox in a jade green vase. A corsage contest was held, each member having designed her own. First prize went to Mrs. F. H. Leavitt.

When roll call was answered each one identified the flowers in her own corsage.

Mrs. E. A. Graham presided for the business session, at which time plans were made to hold a family picnic on Aug. 16 at 6:30 p. m. at South Park. A nominating committee was appointed to report at the September meeting. This group is composed of Mrs. Leavitt, Mrs. Amos Day and Mrs. William Stahl.

A report was made on the sponsorship of a group of women who have decided to form a garden club. Mrs. Stahl told of their plans and the club voted to sponsor the group.

Mrs. Boyd Hartman presented an interesting paper on "Constructing the Arrangement". She stated that design, scale, balance and harmony are the important factors in construction.

"One must learn to know what to leave out and when not to leave out a bloom, regardless of how perfect it is," said her speaker.

She also gave a tip on how to keep the arrangement intact when freshening it.

Mrs. Wilmer Gross gave a comprehensive paper on "The Art of Home Landscaping". She stated that within each one is a desire for inborn beauty and that one way of expressing it is in landscaping your home.

"Trees", stated Mrs. Gross, "are the backbone of the landscaping problem. Don't plant a tree just anywhere," she said. "Trim trees high and revel in the glory of the sky and the pattern shadows of your lawn."

In closing she said, "Stive for simple but natural landscape".

Mrs. Hartman's paper on "Garden Friends" was presented by Mrs. Foster Stough, who told the club of the earthworm and its value to the garden.

For Thursday, July 21

The sidereal operations seem to hold up the onward course of advanced objectives, beingindicative of congestions, stagnation or some form of impediment, postponement, or other frustrating state of affairs. It may be a pause for study of far-reaching or basic prospects of matters in hand. This may concern tangible or property rights, or fundamental issues of long - term scope and significance. There may be interference from elders or old institutions. Extravagance or forced issues may impede, but diligence, sound tactics and prudent efforts might batter down all opposition or static conditions.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may be confronted by a blocking or stagnation of cherished plans, hopes and aspirations. Some delay or postponing influence may prove disheartening, caused probably by lack of funds, credit or the promised aid of those in position. These might be affected by show of extravagance or other enthusiasm, when carefully studied ideas, attention to detail and practical plans might regain their interest. Tread cautiously in all efforts, with a vision of enduring values and future security.

A child born on this day may be easily disheartened, with its efforts discouraged by indifferent interest or vitality, its ambitions thwarted by frustrations, hindrances or handicaps.

Two New Ways To Disguise Leftovers

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
(AP Staff Writer)

HERE ARE TWO new ways to use leftover chicken, turkey or meat. The curry and rice dish calls for a cup each of leftover canned tomatoes and cooked potatoes The pancake platter makes a delectable supper dish—for the family or company.

CURRY AND RICE

Ingredients: ¼ cup fortified margarine, 1 cup chopped onion, 1 pound ground cooked meat or poultry, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1½ to 3 teaspoons curry powder, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup cooked or canned tomatoes, 1 cup diced cooked potatoes, 1½ cups stock or milk, 1 cup rice.

Method: Melt margarine in a skillet, add the onion and brown Add meat or poultry and mix well. Season with salt, sugar, and curry powder. Add flour and mix well. Add the tomatoes, potatoes milk or stock; stir, mixing well Cover, reduce heat and cook slowly about 15 minutes Serve with rice 4 to 6 servings.

BAKED PANCAKE ROLLS

Ingredients: 8 six - inch pancakes, ¼ cup fat, ½ cup finely diced onion, ¼ cup flour, 2 cups well-seasoned chicken broth, 2 cups finely diced cooked chicken, ⅛ teaspoon powdered marjoram, 1 three-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, 2 tablespoons finely diced green pepper

Method: Make pancakes from packaged mix, or from your own recipe. Melt fat in saucepan over moderate heat. Add onion and cook 5 minutes, stirring frequently Add flour and mix well. Add chicken broth Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Combine 1 cup of sauce with the chicken, stir in the marjoram Place ¼ cup of the chicken mixture in the center of each pancake and roll up. Place rolls on greased shallow baking dish, about 8 x 11 inches Brush rolls lightly with a bit of cooking oil and bake until crisp in moderately hot (375 degrees F.) oven, about 20 minutes Meanwhile add contents of can of mushrooms and green pepper to remaining sauce. Bring to boil and serve hot over chicken rolls Garnish platter with crisp green sprays of watercress and carrot flowers, if desired.

Good Lunch Or Supper Suggestions

FOR a pleasing luncheon or supper dish, quickly prepared, cook a 6-oz. package of wide noodles according to package directions Drain then return to utensil in which noodles were cooked Add a 7-oz can of tuna fish, flaked, also a 10½-oz can of condensed cream of mushroom soup. Cook until ingredients are thoroughly heated If too dry, add a small amount of milk Yield 6 servings

MIXED VEGETABLES

If the larder yields 1½ c mixed vegetables such as cooked carrots, and peas or some limas or string beans, prepare a molded vegetable salad to give a light touch to a hearty menu For 6 servings, soften one envelope unflavored gelatin in ½ c cold water Add ¼ c hot water, ½ tsp salt, tbsp sugar, stir until dissolved Stir in ¼ c mild vinegar and tbsp lemon juice Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites Stir in tbsp onion and 1½ c cold cooked mixed vegetables Pour into large or individual molds and chill until firm Unmold and serve on salad greens with French dressing

For something different to add interest to one of your standard menus, serve corn bread baked with bacon strips, something that the menfolk will applaud Make corn bread according to your favorite recipe, but omit the shortening Pour batter into a well greased shallow pan and arrange slices of bacon on top of batter. Bake according to recipe The crisp bacon will add a pleasant crunchiness

Give a piquant touch to the same old green beans by preparing them with a Creole accent Place 2 tbsp table fat in saucepan; add 2 tbsp finely chopped onion, 2 tabsp. finely chopped green pepper and ½ c slices mushrooms, cook over low heat for about 5 min. Add one c. canned tomatoes, ½ tsp salt, ⅛ tsp pepper Simmer until sauce is thickened Add 2½ c. cooked or drained canned green beans; heat. Yield: 4 servings.

Survey Shows Men Cook, Scrub, Clean To Help Wives

JUST HOW MUCH the average man does around the house to ease the little lady's toil and troubles has been an intriguing, if not a debatable, question. And one on which it's doubtful whether any two people will agree.

But to get the latest information from the male side. The American Magazine recently polled a cross-section of its men readers who generally are in the middle-income class Sixty-two percent of the 2,350 respondents are in the 25-45 age group and have children and nearly 90 per cent live in communities with 2,500 or more population

Whether they were being boastful or not, a good percentage of the men stated that they cook, wash dishes, scrub and wax floors, sweep rugs, wash windows, and shop for food.

To start with, 16 5 per cent report they always prepare their own breakfast while 53 per cent said they did it sometimes Only three out of ten, 30 5 per cent conceded their wives prepared it regularly And just to show the trend, 29 1 per cent of the men said they prepare breakfast more often now than they did five years ago. More than one-third, 37 per cent, even cook cereal for breakfast.

In fact, 38,7 per cent of The American Magazine's male readers profess to be right at home on the kitchen range, turning out such things as cornbread, date nut bread, stews, welsh rarebit, spaghetti, macaroni, and omelettes, not to mention their ability to broil steaks and chops or bake pies, biscuits, brownies, and donuts

When it comes to dishwashing, more than eight out of ten, 84.8 per cent, have given it a fling and 65 7 per cent claim to have been complimented by the better-half on the wonderful cleanup job they've done.

Window-washing is the task of 35 7 per cent of the men, compared with 37 8 per cent who say their wives do it An even larger number, 42 8 per cent of the men scrub floors; 45 7 per cent wax floors; and 53.1 per cent sweep rugs.

As for buying food, 54.3 per cent said they could take it or leave it, but an appreciable number, 17 5 per cent, actually enjoy this type of shopping.

Britain, Commonwealth Slash Imports

U. S. Faces Loss of $700 Million Trade

LONDON — (INS) — The United States today faces a loss of 700 million dollars in trade with Britain and the commonwealth nations.

In a desparate attempt to bolster Britain's sagging economy, finance ministers of the commonwealth under the leadership of Sir Stafford Cripps yesterday agreed on a 25 per cent slash in dollar purchases for 1949-50.

Britain has already decided to curtail dollar purchases by 400 million. The commonwealth nations are expected to follow this lead to the extent of an additional 300 million dollars.

Sir Stafford, chancellor of the exchequer and economic Czar of the labor government, indicated that the cut in dollar imports was merely a temporary expedient. A more lasting solution to Britain's unfavorable trade balance and shortage of dollars and gold, he hinted, will be worked out at the September conference in Washington, of British, Canadian and U. S. ministers.

Concluding debate on economic problems, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin praised the North Atlantic pact for having created political stability, but added, "We have not yet carried this cooperation into the field of exchanges, as we must now do."

Bevin went on record as opposed to devaluation of the pound, stating that previous experience with that approach had "terrible consequences."

The foreign minister also held the door open for expanded trade with the Soviet Union when he said the best way to solve the "Russian problem" was not to refuse to trade with the U. S. S. R.

Bevin discounted the theory that Britain's nationalization program has been responsible for the economic crisis.

The estimated 700 million dollar cut in imports from the U. S. will most likely affect purchases of tobacco, sugar and gasoline.

Britain, it is known, is also contemplating a reduction in imports of timber, cotton, non-ferrous metals and machinery.

Senate Subcommittee Spurns Trial Run on Brannan Plan

House Set For Debate On Question

Compromise Idea Turned Down

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A Senate agriculture subcommittee yesterday formally tossed overboard an administration proposal for a trial run of the Brannan farm plan on hogs.

The action was taken during a closed session of the subcommittee which had had the measure under consideration for several weeks.

It came as the House, on the other side of the capitol, squared off for debate on farm legislation.

A Democratic-Republican coalition in the House flatly rejected administration efforts to put through a compromise on Secretary of Agriculture Brannan's subsidy plan.

The Brannan program would let the prices of perishable farm products fall to the natural level on the market.

Farmers would get government checks--paid for by taxes--for the difference in those prices and what the government considers a fair price.

The trial run with hogs was proposed as a compromise experiment to find out how the plan would work in practice.

Chairman Gillette (D-IA) of the Senate subcommittee told reporters after the group's meeting:

"I was directed to draft a report to the full committee returning the bill without recommendation.

"In effect, the exigencies on the hog situation seems to have passed.

"It seemed to us that a trial run on one or more farm products would not be best."

Farmers Attend Beef Cattle Day At Experiment Station

Area farmers yesterday attended Beef Cattle day at the Ohio Agricultural experiment station in Wooster. The principal speaker was Sam McKelvie, director of the American Hereford ad association.

The event started at noon at the Frye barn on Route 250 in Wooster. Three sizes of steer calves that have finished a feeding test after being on full feed for 225 days were shown.

A progress report of a test of 10 lots of steers on a protein supplement test was also given. The test inclued a comparison of soybean oil meal with various combinations of soybean oil meal, meat scraps, alfalfa meal, and urea. The test had been in progress for eight months.

Sailor Held In Robbery

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — J. B. Amoe, a Philadelphia sailor, was held for Ohio authorities today after admitting he beat and robbed an air force sergeant near Wilmington, O., yesterday.

Amoe, arrested on a Philadelphia-bound airplane at County airport yesterday, said he and Mrs. Bertha Dugger, 22, of Camden, N. J., "thumbed" a ride from Sgt. John Beard, 26, of Tampa, Fla., in Detroit.

As they neared Wilmington, Amoe said he beat Beard and took three $100 bills from his wallet. Amoe and Mrs. Dugger left Beard along the roadside and drove his car to Zanesville. There Mrs. Dugger took an airplane to Columbus, where she was arrested yesterday.

Survey Sets Up Standards For Profitable Farm Operation

Lower prices and high operating costs are squeezing the profit of the careless and inefficient farmer, Lowell Hardin, department of agricultural economics at Purdue university declares.

Farming profits this year, and in the future, will be increasingly dependent on the way you organize and manage your farm business Hardin says in an article in Successful Farming magazine.

The writer discloses that the business records of 750 Indiana farms have been analyzed and the main goals of the farmers classified. The farms studied are all in the top third of the diversified, medium - sized farms in Indiana.

Here are the standards used by the operators of the 750 Indiana farms studied to insure profitable results:

LAND. The farm should total 160 acres or more of land at least 75 per cent tillable. Soil productivity should be built to achieve 55 or more bushels of corn per acre. Lime and commercial fertilizer should be applied according to needs determined by soil tests. Drainage and erosion problems should be brought under control. Water should be made available in all fields with as little hand labor as possible.

BUILDINGS. Buildings should be adequate and in good repair but not overbuilt.

EQUIPMENT. A farmer should maintain an average investment of $25 to $30 per crop acre in farm machinery and equipment.

CROPS. Thirty - five per cent or more of the cropland should be kept in beans and corn. As much of these high-profit crops should be raised as is consistent with maintaining and improving soil fertility. Thirty per cent or less of the cropland should be put in oats, wheat or other small grains—limited to the amount needed as nurse crops.

Thirty per cent or more of the cropland should be kept in legume sod, the exact acreage depending on the amount necessary to maintain fertility and control erosion.

Only 30 per cent or less of cropland should be left bare (without cover) over the winter, except for level land not subject to erosion. Uniform acreages of each crop should be raised each year.

LIVESTOCK. Invest $30 or more in productive livestock (not work stock) per acre. One or more roughage users (cow equivalents — a dairy or beef cow, two young cattle or feeders, or seven ewes) should be kept per 10 acres. Keep enough grain consumers to use from 80 to 200 per cent of the grain raised on the farm. Keep enough total stock to make up 50 per cent or more of the total work done on the farm.

Beetle's a Night Raider

By DEAN HALLIDAY

(By Central Press)

July often brings beetle troubles to home gardeners. In certain areas the Japanese beetle becomes a ravaging pest. Over an even wider area the Asiatic beetle becomes a nuisance.

The Asiatic beetle is a night raider. Under cover of darkness it greedily devours foilage in both the flower and vegetable garden. It has an especial liking for asters, but nearly 100 different plants are included in its diet list.

Like the Japanese beetle, the Asiatic beetle winters underground. A section of its life's cycle is shown in the accompanying Garden - Graph. The adult beetles emerge from the soil during June and July, then start returning underground in August and September. The beetles lay eggs underground near grass roots. When these hatch, the larvae feed on roots through September and October, then go deeper under ground for the winter to escape frost and cold.

The adult beetle is about three-eighths of an inch in length and a cinnamon brown in color, which makes it look like a coffee bean. Its back is covered with fine hairs which gives it a velvety appearance.

To protect flowers and vegetables which the Asiatic beetle likes, dust them with rotenone dust. Spraying the lawn with a 25 per cent DDT dust will help to kill off the grubs of this beetle. Use the DDT at the rate of five pounds to 1,000 square feet of grass. Application of DDT dust should be made just before a rain, if possible, otherwise the compound should be watered into the soil by wetting it down with a hose. Some gardeners mix the DDT powder with a good lawn fertilizer.

Epidemic Fades Out

Suburban Area Sprayed, Cleaned Up

No new cases of diarrheal disease have been reported in Country Club Allotment No. 3 as the health department sponsored clean up campaign in area moved into its third day today.

DDT is being sprayed around the homes, trash is being gathered up and hauled away, and unsafe water wells have been posted, as the health department fights to prevent another outbreak of the disease.

The area's population of slightly more than 500 was stricken with 53 cases of diarrhea over a period of about two weeks, a health department survey indicated.

Two deaths, both children only several months old, were attributed to "acute enterities".

"As far as we know no new cases have developed," Miss Martha McFarland, secretary of the Mansfield-Richland County health department said yesterday.

TESTS UNDER WAY

Meanwhile in the laboratories of the state department of health chemists are attempting to discover the exact cause of the outbreak of the disease here.

Dr. Charles C. Croft, assistant supervisor of the state department's laboratories was in Mansfield for two days last week collecting specimens that he hoped would point out the exact cause of the outbreak.

The health department's clean up campaign was termed "a temporary answer" by Dr. Charles Freeble, head of the state health department's communicable disease division.

"As long as the residents of the area are without adequate water supply and sewage disposal there is always a chance of another outbreak, that may be even more serious." Dr. Freeble said.

A health department survey recently disclosed an area containing an estimated population of 10,000 persons surrounding Mansfield, is without adequte water or sewage disposal facilities.

DDT GOES INTO ACTION—To reduce the fly population that health department officials believe may have been partly responsible for the outbreak of diarrheal disease in Country Club Allotment No. 3 last week, DDT spraying of the complete area was ordered. Operating the spray equipment (from left to right) are Ernest Coffindaffer, John Jones and John Kruso of the Commercial Chemical company.

Registration For 3-Day Camp Opens

Miss Mabel Spray, home demonstration agent, today announced the opening of registration for the three-day camp period at Camp Pittenger, which starts July 26.

Application to attend the camp may be made at the county extension office, Miss Spray said. The camp in Seneca county is open to rural women from five counties — Richland, Crawford, Wyandot, Marion and Seneca.

Included on the camp program are crafts, speeches, vespers and campfire programs.

Excavators Uncover Old Skeletons

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Excavation for a new vocation building at Ohio penitentiary has uncovered three whole skeletons, Warden R. W. Alvis said yesterday.

But, the warden isn't calling out the state criminal investigators.

The portion of the prison yard in which the skeletons were found once was a graveyard.

The prison originally was built on 15 acres of land with a graveyard adjoining the prison property. Later, the prison took over 10 acres of the graveyard," Warden Alvis said.

The warden speculated the skeletons may have been victims of an epidemic that swept the prison just a century ago, claiming the lives of about one-third of the prisoners.
